ICM GROUP

THE CULTURE OF BUILDING

The origins of the Group date back to 1921 with its incorporation, in Recoaro Terme (Vicenza, Italy). In the Fifties and Seventies, the company, after moving to Vicenza, acquired orders in the field of major works both in the public and private sector, and developed a full range of industrial initiatives related to the construction industry (factories for prefabrication, for the production of concrete, for the processing of iron for reinforced concrete).

In 1976, the scope of the company extended abroad, with the incorporation of Delma S.p.A. and the acquisition of important works in extra-UE countries.

The Group is currently active in large civil, industrial and infrastructural engineering projects and is one of the top ten national companies in Italy in terms of turnover, number of employees and order backlog, as well as one of the top two hundred and fifty international companies, according to the ENR classification. Besides being active in the construction sector, the Group operates in the fields of solutions for environmental issues, real estate and finance. The Group companies are members of the most qualified Italian and international associations and bodies.

MISSION

The ICM Group proposes itself as a General Contractor for the execution of important works, in terms of both value and technical content, for public bodies and private customers, both in Italy and abroad.

The implementation of new regulations and industrial policies in the sector, the increasing globalization of the market, the increasingly important presence of European competitors and the contraction of the "domestic" market due to economic reasons, together with the consideration that the environmental context can no longer be understood as a mere passive receptor space but should rather be seen as an asset to be enhanced and protected: all this requires a rapid transformation and adaptation of companies active in the construction industry.

VALUES

The ICM Group has always been inspired by the principles of fairness, transparency and confidentiality as well as of respect for human dignity and for the environment in which it operates. Human resources are the Group most important asset; therefore, the primary goal is to provide them with the necessary training and to operate in compliance with the maximum safety requirements.

Moreover, through specific improvement programs, the company aims at preserving natural resources and minimizing or eliminating negative environmental effects and risks associated with its production cycles and services, ensuring a socially responsible product and service and promoting the search for processes with low environmental impact, alternative to those currently relied on.
